I Don’t Want to Mention Any Names, But....

Recently one of our members was pinched for using his cell phone while driving. Upon hearing of this misfortune, another of our members who had also been ticketed a while back for the same offense (and was ridden like a dime store pony about it) decided to give his buddy a call and offer some words of wisdom. Apparently the offender’s wife answered the phone call instead, and mentioned that her husband was in the middle of a manicure/pedicure and wouldn’t be able to come to the phone. I don’t know about the rest of you but when I picture a fellow bass fisherman in a chair with cotton balls between his toes it is just disturbing.

In case you need a clue as to the identity of said pedicure recipient, he drives a big Ford diesel. Hope the toes came out nice! :)
